

A Revolution In Eating

has been brought about by the introduction of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening. The discovery of this product, and the demonstration of its remarkable qualities, has attracted the widest interest. Hitherto the common shortening has been lard, or indifferent butter. Every one has probably suffered occasional discomfort from lard-cooked food; while it is well known that thousands are obliged to abstain entirely from everything of that kind. To such people, COTTOLENE is of peculiar value, widening as it does, the range of what may be eaten and enjoyed. COTTOLENE is a cooking marvel. It combines with the food—imparts to it a tempting color, a delicate flavor, and an appetizing crispness. No trace of greasiness remains to offend the taste, or disturb the digestion.

COTTOLENE is worthy of the careful notice of all those who value good food, of itself or for its hygienic properties.

BURIED IN A COAL MINE

Over a Hundred Yorkshire Men Dead at Thornhill.

EXPLOSION AT INGRAM'S COLLIERY

Only Nine Rescued Out of a Total of One Hundred and Forty-five—All Hope For the Others Is Abandoned—Distressing Scenes at the Recovery of the Victims.

LONDON, July 6.—The work of rescuing the living miners and of recovering the bodies of the dead is being pushed as rapidly as possible in Ingram's colliery, Thornhill, Yorkshire, the scene of the disastrous explosion that entombed the day shift of 145 men. Volunteers for the work of rescue are plenty and the miners are working their way into the furthest workings of the mine as expeditiously as can be expected in view of the fact that they have to remove enormous quantities of debris from the galleries. Little progress was made last night as the inner workings were still full of gas and the rescuing party could get only a little distance from the shaft.

The rescuers have brought 88 bodies to the surface. Two men were brought up in an unconscious condition, but still breathing. The physicians who have been around the pit's mouth nearly all the time since the accident occurred, at once took them in charge, and hopes are entertained that they will recover. Six men who had sustained no injury whatever, but had been imprisoned behind a huge mass of debris, were dug out. When they appeared at the mouth of the pit they were greeted in a most touching manner by their relatives and friends.

Eight men and a boy have been rescued from the mine. All hope for the others of the 145 in the pit has been abandoned. The bodies of the victims are being rapidly brought to the surface. The scenes at the mouth of the pit as the bodies are brought up and recognized by the relatives and friends of the dead are most distressing. No reason has been given for the explosion, but the conjecture is that it was caused by carelessness on the part of one of the miners in opening his lamp.

MYSTERY SOLVED.

The Man Missing at Norfolk Was Cleo Harrison Case.

NORFOLK, July 6.—The identity of the man who was missing from the steamship Guyanotte last Thursday night on its departure from Norfolk to New York has been established. His name is Cleo Harrison Case. He came to this city from Canada last October and has been residing here up to within the past month with his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace. He moved with them from Norfolk to Port Norfolk, a suburban town, early in June.

Mrs. Wallace visited Norfolk, having with her her photograph, her suspicions being aroused by the published reports that the party lost from the Guyanotte was her father. On showing the photograph to the captain of the Guyanotte the identity was established. The woman who traveled with him was no relative whatever.

A Hero of the Old Navy Gone.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Commodore Samuel Lockwood of the United States navy died in Flushing in his 90th year. He was born in Connecticut in 1803, and entered the navy when 17 years old. In 1826 he was serving as a midshipman in the war sloop Warren, which was attempting to stamp out piracy in Grecian waters. He was made a lieutenant in 1828, and in 1837-48 commanded the steamers Petrel and Scourge, assisting in the capture of Vera Cruz, Tuxpan and Tabasco. The rank of commander was conferred upon him in 1850, and several years later he became a commodore. In 1861-2 he had charge of the blockades of Wilmington, Beaufort, York river and Newport News.

Iron Companies Divide Territory.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Negotiations for a working agreement between the Tennessee Coal and Iron company and the Sloss Iron and Steel company are now in progress. The basis is the division of territory, to be made according to outputs and market operations of the two interests. The average price at which these companies have been selling their coal is 90 cents. The new arrangement, it is believed, will enable them to receive $1.10.

The Steamer Struck an Iceberg.

MONTREAL, July 6.—Information has been received that the steamer Lake Nepigon of the Beaver line, which sailed from Montreal on Tuesday last, struck an iceberg and was beached in Fortune bay. There were two saloon and 12 intermediate passengers who are safe. The vessel also carried 431 cattle.

A Millionaire's Daughter Missing.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Miss Edith Drake, 27 years old, daughter of James M. Drake, the millionaire banker, has disappeared mysteriously and her parents and friends are much alarmed because of it. She was deeply infatuated with Samuel D. McGibney, a builder, who is a year younger than Miss Drake. McGibney is said to have made a trip out of town at a time corresponding with the disappearance of Miss Drake, but as yet there has been no suggestion that they have taken the matter into their own hands and eloped.

Killed by a Runaway.

MANNINGTON, W. Va., July 6.—W. P. Turner, wife and 4-months-old child were driving to Sherman heights to attend a picnic. Their horse took fright and ran away, throwing Mrs. Turner and the child out of the carriage and instantly killing them. Mr. Turner is seriously if not fatally injured.

Killed by a Farm Tenant.

HALEYVILLE, Ala., July 6.—Deputy United States Marshal Henderson was shot and killed at his home by a tenant on his farm. A dispute arose over some trivial matters, thereupon the tenant picked up a shot gun and emptied the contents into the body of Henderson.

To Sue For Sheepskins.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 6.—Two students in the Normal school were refused diplomas because they denounced the board of trustees, and will bring suit to compel the board to issue sheepskins to them.

Badly Shaken Up but Not Injured.

CHICAGO, July 6.—A Washington Park race train on the Illinois Central road collided with a freight train at Forty-fourth street. The passenger engine and four cars were demolished and the engineer and fireman of the freight were slightly injured. Beyond a bad shaking up none of the passengers were injured.

STREET CAR RUNNING WILD.

A Cable Car on Broadway in New York Became Unmanageable.

NEW YORK, July 6.—A cable car became unmanageable on Broadway in front of City Hall park and started on a rampage toward the Battery. The motorman was unable to release the grip and under the circumstances the brake became useless. In front of the postoffice the runaway car crashed into the rear platform of a horse car ahead. The driver of the horse car with commendable presence of mind reined his horses to one side just in time to save them from being run down. Both horses were thrown to the street and the traces were torn away. The driver escaped with slight injuries.

Still the cars rushed on, plowing through trucks and knocking down horses. In front of St. Paul's church yard there was a block on Broadway, and the drivers of trucks were unable to save their horses and wagons. When the cars had cut a passage through the block seven horses were horsed de combat, and about five wagons were badly damaged. The cars with their frightened load of passengers were finally stopped near the Battery.

Heroic James Kirtland.

ROYALTON, O., July 6.—James Kirtland, a meat dealer, 45 years old, who recently completed a residence and moved into it with his wife and 3-year-old daughter, Barbara, only a few days ago, lost his life in an accident through his devotion to his child. His old house, a story and a half brick structure on the some premises, he decided to remove. The foundation had been undermined, and Kirtland saw his little girl standing where she would be caught by the falling ruins. He sprang toward her, throwing her upon the ground, leaped over her and received the full force of the falling bricks upon his head and back. The little girl escaped without serious injury, but the father was instantly killed.

Escaped Convict Recaptured.

NEW YORK, July 6.—George Ketcham, alias Joe Bennett, who escaped from the Kings county penitentiary, Brooklyn, by a novel ruse in the fall of 1887, was recognized in Raymond street jail, where he was serving a short sentence for drunkenness. He was sent back to the penitentiary to serve out the balance of a five years' sentence for grand larceny. On Nov. 28, 1887, Ketcham escaped from the prison by dyeing his prison garb with aniline dye which enabled him to pass the gatekeeper unrecognized.

A Ball of Fire Seen in the Air.

PULASKI CITY, Va., July 6.—A most remarkable phenomenon was seen here in the evening in the shape of what seemed to be a ball of fire moving rapidly across the sky. It was much larger and redder than the largest star and moved in a straight horizontal line from northeast and southeast. When it neared Peaks Knob it divided and came perpendicularly down among the trees on the north side of the Peaks.

HITCHCOCK, Tex., July 6.—Peter Barr of Liverpool, and Peter White, a negro from Oklahoma, fought to a finish for a purse of $500. White was knocked out in the twenty-first round. The fight was witnessed by several hundred people, and about $8,000 changed hands on the result.

SOUTHERN BASEBALL.

Intense Interest in the Result of the Championship Games Being Shown.

AUGUSTA, July 6.—There was intense interest all day in the baseball situation. The first series of the Southern League ended with the Augusta club ahead, having lost only 17 games out of 61. Charleston holds second place and claims that if she can win the postponed game with Augusta will be first. President Hart ordered the game to be played here and the Charleston club came accompanied by several hundred Charlestonians.

Augusta claims to have won the pennant on her merits and decided to refuse to play, but a heavy downfall of rain fell shortly after noon and rendered the grounds unfit for the game. No umpire appeared, but both clubs were on the grounds, spectators, however, not being allowed admittance. Charleston will carry the question before the league directory.

Last Game of the Southern League.

ATLANTA, July 6.—Atlanta defeated New Orleans 15 to 6. This was the last game in the first series of the Southern League. The league directory met here and awarded the pennant for the first series to Augusta. T. B. Hicklin of Chattanooga was elected president of the league, vice C. C. Hart resigned.

Panics Stricken Pensioners.

DES MOINES, July 6.—There was almost a panic among pensioners here. It seems that the money for the regular quarterly payment had not yet been received, although Agent Marine made the requisition June 26. The amount required is about $2,100,000. When the first comers were told that there was no money for them as yet, fear took possession of them and spread like wild fire among the rapidly arriving pensioners, including men and women. Some one made them believe the payment of pensions had been summarily stopped by Cleveland, and that added fury to fear. The more intelligent have been trying to quiet others.

SHOOTING THE RAPIDS

Christian Endeavorers Having a Good Time in Montreal.

RATHER COOL FOR LIGHT COSTUMES

An Interesting Feature of the Great Protestant Gathering is the Cordial Welcome It Receives From the French Catholics of Ancient Quebec—Medals Presented.

MONTREAL, July 6.—The day was one of quiet enjoyment for the Christian Endeavorers in this city. They climbed the heights of Mount Royal, took little excursions on the St. Lawrence, shot the foaming rapids at Lachine, besieged the depots to greet newcomers, and in many other ways made themselves at home in Canada's metropolis. The weather was cool, too cool, in fact, for some of the light costumes in which the southern delegates were attired.

The magnates of the Christian Endeavor convention are quartered at the Windsor hotel. Be it known that American lady visitors sit there too right among the male guests. This surprises the Montrealers.

Some Distinguished Delegates.

Another party that attracts attention is Rev. Bishop B. W. Arnett of Vicksburg, Miss. He stocks about the rotunda attired in a long frock coat surmounted with a broad brimmed straw hat. He is a striking figure. But the Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler of Brooklyn also comes in for a good share of attention. The fame of this grand old man has preceded him.

President F. E. Clark is another party that Montrealers love to honor. After luncheon the local committee of 1893 followed Rev. Mr. Clark to the ladies' ordinary, and there A. A. Ayer, the chairman, pinned on the lapel of his coat a gold medal handsomely designed in commemoration of his visit to Montreal. Secretary Baer and Treasurer William Shaw of Boston were also the recipients of silver medals. The presentation was a surprise, but it was a pleasant incident.

The drill hall presents a very inviting appearance. Some further decorations have been arranged, and just in front of the speaker's platform have been placed flowers from the conservatory of Sir Donald A. Smith.

Welcomed by the Catholics.

Nothing is wanted to complete the heartiness of Montreal's welcome to the visitors. The feeling of the Roman Catholic French people of Montreal is voiced by Lamineve, an ultra-montane paper. It says:

"The great Protestant convention which opens here is one of exceptional interest to Catholics. Our duty under the circumstances is plain. It is, first of all, to respect the distinguished visitors; secondly, to cause the Roman Catholic religion to be loved. A large number of Protestants who are removed from it by false ideas, by unfortunate prejudices, may learn to appreciate us and to come nearer to our belief. It is for us now to seize upon this occasion and to show that we are the true disciples of him who gave the example of all the virtues and at the same time preached the love and respect of the neighbor. We therefore welcome the Christian Endeavor society and we hope all its members will return to their homes satisfied with Catholic Montreal."

FIGHT FOR A FORTUNE.

The Hulett Will Case at Duluth Involves More Than Half a Million.

DULUTH, July 6.—The application of Mrs. Lulu Pomery for the setting aside of a certain portion of the estate of the late Nehemiah Hulett came up in the probate court for this county. Hulett was an eccentric old man, who during his last years lived entirely alone but for his housekeeper, Mrs. Pomery.

Sometime after his death the woman made application that the house where he had lived be set aside for her as his will. She produced also a marriage contract executed on a piece of manila wrapping paper, purporting to be signed by Hulett and herself, in which they set forth that, believing such a course proper, they declare themselves man and wife. There is no question as to the relations which existed between Hulett and the woman, but the heirs claim that the alleged certificate is a forgery and that she was only his mistress. The testimony thus far tends to confirm that opinion.

Judge Carey and A. R. McFarlane, both business associates of Hulett during his lifetime, testified that the signature of Hulett was a forgery and that the portion of the contract said to be his handwriting was also forged. The amount involved in the case exceeds $500,000.

The long cherished wish of John C. Calhoun of South Carolina is to be realized in the formal opening of the Clemson Agricultural college at his old home in Fort Hill, S. C. The estate was bequeathed to the state for the purpose by Thomas G. Clemson, who married Mr. Calhoun's eldest daughter and who died in 1888, having survived his wife and her father and mother.

His highness the maharajah of Kapurthala, who is now in Japan headed for the World's fair, is a petty Hindoo potentate (maharajah is Sanskrit for "great king") but a very gorgeous one, for he is wealthy in the orient's barbaric pearl and gold, and wears one or more rings on every finger and on his thumbs as a slight indication of his fondness for jewelry. He is rather old and, unlike most eastern princes, not very well educated. He is accompanied by a numerous retinue, but he is under the direction of an excursion agency.

AGAINST THE CHINESE.

American Federation of Labor Will Send a Committee to the White House.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The meeting of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor which began Tuesday at the office of President Samuel Gompers, was continued. The most important matter considered was the discussion of a new schedule of wages for iron and steel workers. No action was taken, however, as a compromise has been effected for the time being.

The demand of the Boiler Makers' union and the Typographical union for a 9-hour day were also considered. A resolution was adopted to the effect that the executive council arrange for an interview with President Cleveland for the purpose of urging the adoption of an 8-hour law and also to protest against any understanding between the United States and China to annul or modify the Chinese exclusion act. The executive council is to report at a meeting to be held after the interview with the president.
